

Dear Parents,

We are so excited about delivering Cyber Civics lessons to your children! This comprehensive program is a deep dive into digital literacy, with an emphasis on helping youth build a healthy relationship with technology.

The best way to ensure the program's success is through your support! The more knowledgeable you are, the deeper the learning will be for your child. Cyber Civics has some great resources that will help you stay informed. You can check out their blog, follow along on social media, or read their book: "Raising Humans in a Digital World."

Technology addiction, sexting, online predators, cyberbullying, and more, are topics that can make us all fearful of technology. But we can work together to ensure children are prepared and protected against possible threats like these. When you learn alongside your children, everybody wins!
